CORA will accept referrals to emergency shelter in accordance with the process established by the County. CORA will provide intake assessments, safety planning, individual and family counseling, self-sufficiency education, and case management.

  create a safety plan for life beyond their stay at CORA's Emergency Shelter. This plan may include obtaining a restraining order against the abuser, changing or obtaining a job, securing safe visitation for children with the non-custodial parent, and changing children's school. CORA will provide intake, assessment, safety planning, counseling, education, and case management services for these transitional housing residents.

These trauma informed, individually tailored mental health services will be provided at the CORA shelter, business center, and/or through telehealth via videocall.
